A list of 486 Palm Beach County service stations came from the Florida Department of Agriculture/Consumer Services. The Palm Beach County Consumer Affairs Division attempted to call every station. Contact was made with 380 stations. Of the stations contacted, 147 responded affirmatively to this question: Can your station pump gasoline for customers using a back-up generator when we lose electricity? Additionally, 41 more gas stations said they would be getting generators sometime during the 2007 Hurricane season (those stations are not included in the above list). It should be noted that a few of the stations reported above appear to be wholesalers.
